The idea is to organize all the peet growers who use irrigation," explained Mr. Austin, yesterday. "The object is to be within the realm of possibility to study the different problems of beet culture, exchange ideas and take concerted action wherever necessary for the content of the content culture, exchange ideas and take con-certed action wherever necessary for the good of the beet growers. It will be a good business proposition for every farmer interested in raising sugar beets, for if he can learn how to get beets, for if he can learn how to get more beets and a higher percentage of sugar, it will come back to him promptly when he sells his crop, more than making up for any expense he might have in attending a convention. "Utah is the pioneer in raising sugar beets, and I hope that permanent head-quarters will be established in Salt Lake. In my oninion it will not be ad-Lake. In my opinion it will not be advisable to take in states where irrigation is not used, but practically all the beet growers west of the Missouri river use irrigation and should join the new organization. The time will be ripe to talk the thing up and bring it to a focus when the national irrigation convention is here. We can show the visitors a few things about what we have done in Utah along these lines, and I believe we can start out the organization with a big membership."

WARM WINTER DAY.

Temperature Higher Yesterday Than For Many Weeks.

Salt Lake temperature experienced a decided rise yesterday. In fact the day was one of the warmest since winter set in. The thermometer reached 51 degrees in the middle of the day, and it fell but very little during the after-noon, though there was a decided fall after sundown. The point reached by the thermometer was only 3 degrees behind the warmest temperature ever registered here in January. The difference in warmth was very percepti-ble after the long cold spell that has been hanging over the city, and during the greater part of the day it seemed lmost like spring.

The barometer, though, was traveling in an opposite direction to the ther-mometer, and the indications point to more cold weather and more storm. A storm center is hanging over the Oregon coast, but for some reason it seems to be stationary there. The advance wave of the storm reached this city during the morning and caused the mercury in the barometer to drop several hundredths of an inch. From all indications quite a severe storm is on its way to the city, and it is predicted that it will bring, probably, a heavy precipitation of rain or snow.

Mr. Botsford refused the offer. It is believed that the pension system recently introduced by the Harriman lines will have a material effect in reducing the number of changes of this kind.

AGENTS ARE STALLED.

Result of the Abandonment of Pass Courtesies.

An effect of the pass difficulty be-tween the railroads is observed in the scarcity of the visits of traveling rep-resentatives of the roads. This is not the best season in the world for the traveling passenger and freight agent, yet there are always some visitors at this time of the year, but none of the time of the year, but none of the outside lines have had representatives in Salt Lake for the past three weeks. On the other hand the local representatives of easiern roads have been tied up in Salt Lake for the same length of time. They are handicapped by the fact that the usual passes upon which they rely have not turned up, and there is no immediate prospect that they will.

by Kallroad Officials.

It may be a surprise to the general public to learn that most railroad trains are run by the barometer as well as by the chronometer. Twice every day the officials of the Oregon Short Line receive a detailed report of the condition of the weather at various points of the line. One of these reports goes to General Manager Bancroft. A duplicate report is also sent to General Superintendent Calvin, Sugar perintendent of Motive Power Dunn

Railroad men are looking forward to the time when sleeping coaches will be run by the company. The present system of handling sleepers is unsatisfactory in many respects and the subject is one which has been frequently discussed. The woman entered the same plea to the three charges as the judge read hem to her one at a time, and three imes in succession asked her what she times in succession asked her what she had to say. And three times she replied "Not guilty." Then she sat down, evidently well pleased with herself and the impression she had made. With stolid indifference she awaited any further "due process of law" which might, of necessity, have to be transacted at that time.

Prior to Mary Jane Smith pleading to the information drawn up by District Attorney Dennis Eichnor, Judge Morse appointed E. A. Wedgewood and C. E. Marks counsel to defend her.

After the pieadings Attorney Wedgewood asked permission to change the plea later if he found it advisable to do so, stating that he had not had time to read the information carefully and minutely examine the three counts contained therein. The request was granted

GLASSES TO FIT THE EYES

Are not obtained by chance. A pair purchased from a street vendor or a salesman in a store will never fit your sight, and are liable to cause considerable trouble. If you will call on Rushmer and have your eyes scientifically examined for a pair of glasses, you are sure to be properly fitted.

Rushmer's Optical Parlors,

I have a girl 11 years old who was never very well. Last summer I took her down to Maine, right out in the woods on the shores of Casso bay. We had a large tent, fir boughs for beds and pillows, plenty of fresh milk, fruits and vegetables, fresh clams and lobsters. Notwithstanding all the good things my girl continued to all; the food, especially milk and apples, distressed her. She complained of pain around the heart. I was surprised that the change from the city did not benefit her. I gave her Ripans Tabules at last and we were surprised at the result, and when I took her home in September she looked as rosy and healthy as a gypsy.
